

The geography of Europe's biggest clubs

Project objective: examine the locations of Europe's largest football clubs using GIS technologies

Conclusion: A map showing the locations of Europe's major football clubs was created using QGIS. The analysis revealed that the majority of leading clubs are concentrated in Western European countries—specifically England, Spain, Portugal, Germany, and Italy. The use of GIS made it possible to visually represent the spatial distribution of football centers across Europe.

● Football Clubs

■ Countries